

ClimaRice partner invited to take part in state level adaptation strategy development

The Tamil Nadu Agricultural University (TNAU) has been invited to take part in the adaptation strategy development in Tamil Nadu state.

07.03.11

Tamil Nadu is one of the four states chosen by the Ministry of Environment and Forest, Government of India, for the preparation of a State Action Plan on Climate Change, in line with the National Action Plan on Climate Change. Agriculture was identified as one of the key sectors and a working group has been formed to identify the issues related to climate change for formulation of the state action plan.

Dr. V. Geethalakshmi from TNAU

Dr. V. Geethalakshmi, Head of the Agro Climate Research Centre at TNAU, has been chosen to be part of this working group.